Dear Fox Class,

I hope you are all well and enjoying the time at home with your families. I wanted to write you all a letter to say "hello" and to let you know what I have been up to this week.

I have spent time thinking of new things for you to do when you are learning at home and I have also been getting things ready for when we go back to school. I was very pleased to see that many of you did your work on MyMaths this week and a few of you also logged in and read some books on Bug Club. I would love it if all of you read at least one book this week. Maybe you could ask your adult to help you to email me and let me know what you read and what you thought of the book... Did you like it? Who was your favourite character? What was your favourite part?

I have also spent a lot of time this week doing exercise (I especially like the Joe Wicks videos which he films every day) and I have also spent time learning how to cook and bake new things. My favourite thing so far was the cheesecake I made. It was scrumptious! Have you made anything this week? Maybe you have done some art work or maybe you have also tried baking something with a member of your family. As well as hearing about your learning, I would also love to hear about what you have been creating at home.

If you would like to share what you have been doing this week, the email address you can send a message to is year2lfp@theparkfederation.org.

Please enjoy the time at home with your families and keep helping your adults. It is a very strange time for them too and I'm sure they would like it if you helped them by doing your learning and maybe by helping around the house with things like tidying up.

I wish you all the best and can't wait to see all of your smiling faces again at school soon. Remember to stay at home so you keep yourself and your families safe.

Best wishes,

Miss Hunter
